HOT CAMPAIGN HIGHLIGHT OF UAW MEETING

Reuther, Thomas Waging Bitter Battle For Presidency of Union

MURRAY IS SPEAKER

Atlantic City, N. J., March 25.—(P)—CIO President Philip Murray ended a speech at the CIO United Auto Workers convention today by praising R. J. Thomas, incumbent who is battling Walter Reuther for the UAW presidency.

After a bare mention of Reuther's name along with other officers to whom he expressed appreciation, Murray referred to Thomas as:

"This great big guy for whom I have a distinct fondness—the president of the United Auto Workers Union."

He specifically denied in his speech that he was here to take part in the bitter political campaign, but the long cheer that went up at his tribute to Thomas showed that the Thomas forces considered it an endorsement.

Murray, in two-timed style, blamed the recent wave of strikes on the failure of AFL and industry leaders to "fulfill their obligations" at the labor-management conference last fall. He said the CIO didn't want to strike but it was "thrust upon."

The CIO chief emphatically denied certain "testable" rumors reflecting on his conduct which he said have been circulated throughout the country and particularly within the UAW-CIO.

He did not endorse either candidate in the bitter election campaign between R. J. Thomas and Walter Reuther for the UAW-CIO presidency.

Thomas, who is seeking his seventh term as UAW president, said Reuther really was "running against Phil Murray for the presidency of the CIO and is opposing CIO policies."

He said the fiery, 38-year-old leader of the General Motors strike was a "dupe" of AFL leaders in a movement to draw the auto union into the AFL.

Reuther said the effort to link him with the AFL is a "communist party line" which Thomas has "picked up" and that it is "the most fantastic, contemptible piece of forgery ever fastened on this union."

Murray said before coming here that he would not take part in the UAW election campaign. The Thomas forces, however, continued to express their hope that Murray would give aid to their cause. The 2,000 delegates will vote on the candidate Wednesday.

As Reuther and Thomas fling words in their election campaign, their undercover disagreement over the handling of the General Motors strike emerged.

Lancaster County Doctor Found Dead

Lancaster, Mar. 25.—(P)—Shot through the head, the nude body of Dr. John H. Reynolds, 34-year-old physician, was found sprawled across a bed at his home in nearby Akron today with his wife unconscious in another room.

Dr. M. H. Yoder, Lancaster county coroner, said Dr. Reynolds was holding a German luger in his right hand and apparently killed himself. A single bullet entered the head near the right ear.

The 34-year-old Mrs. Reynolds apparently had received an overdose of morphine. Dr. Yoder reported. She was taken to the hospital in critical condition.

Mrs. Leroy Eichelberger discovered the body upon arrival at the house to do her cleaning chores.

Active Campaigning About to Get Under Way in State

Harrisburg, March 25.—(P)—Active campaigning gets under way this week in Pennsylvania's 16 political contests—pointed up by the dramatic firing of Governor Martin's cabinet member, U. S. Shroyer, candidate for the public nomination for governor.

The four slated candidates of the Democratic organization open their campaign formally Tuesday at a Jackson Day dinner at Harrisburg. Only one of them, Col. S. R. Rice, Gettysburg, Democratic candidate for governor, has position at the May 21 primary.

Rice's opponent is Henry Arthur Mahoney, City business manager. Running with Rice on the nomination ticket are U. S. Senator Joseph F. Guffey for re-election, State Senator John H. Dent, lieutenant governor and Almid, Philadelphia, blinded

Argentine Queen

(NEA Telephoto)
Queen of the Argentine is Eva Duarte, 28, movie actress who married 50-year-old Col. Juan Peron last October. Late election returns from Buenos Aires give "Strong Man" Peron such a commanding lead in his race for the presidency that Eva seems certain to reign as First Lady of Argentina for the next six years.

Supervisory Men Back At Westinghouse

Pittsburgh, March 25.—(P)—Supervisory employees of the Westinghouse Electric Corporation entered its East Pittsburgh plant without hindrance from pickets today for the first time in the 70-day-old strike of the CIO Electrical Workers.

Fifteen supervisors got into the plant under a clarified court order which limited pickets to 10 at each of the two gates, each picket to keep 10 feet apart.

Previously, the CIO United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers kept the supervisors out by forming solid, shoulder-to-shoulder picket lines.

A crowd of about 1,000 spectators gathered opposite the plant gates at 8 a. m. to watch, but dispersed later in the morning.

Sheriff Walter C. Monaghan, charged with enforcement of the court order, and union officials spoke from a sound truck, instructing the pickets to "keep moving."

The outlook for settlement in the Nation's biggest strike—the 10-week-old dispute between CIO-unions and the Westinghouse Electric Corp.—continued gloomy today. About 75,000 workers are idle.

Negotiations between the union and the company were suspended over the weekend in New York, and there appeared little likelihood of an early resumption of the parleys.

YAMASHITA LEAVES WARNING FOR WORLD

Washington, March 25.—(P)—Yamashita General Tomoyuki Yamashita advised the nation that he changed his as a war criminal to ignore traditional ideas of military strategy in preparing against the possibility of another conflict.

In an article dictated from his Manila death cell and published today in the semi-official Infantry Journal Yamashita told his confederates that the atomic bomb and long range planes meant that the textbooks of West Point and Annapolis must be rewritten.

The ill-fated "Tiger of Malaya," predicting that any future major war will be settled by a single blow from the air, argued therefore that the infantry has lost its once vital role.

Yamashita acknowledged that in World War II Japan's cause was lost, owing particularly to dearth of air power, even before the B-29 superfortresses and the atomic were thrown into the conflict.

EARLE TELLS DETAILS OF PEACE OFFERS

Former Governor Says Soviet Demand for Veto Power Will Make UNO a Washout

IS HOME WITH BRIDE

Philadelphia, March 25.—(P)—Former Governor George H. Earle returning home with his 23-year-old Belgian bride, disclosed today details of two peace offers made through him to the Allied powers in 1943 and 1944 by Franz von Papen, one-time Nazi vice chancellors.

Earle, who said he plans to lecture in the U. S. on "the Frightful Menace of Russia," declared in an interview the Soviet's demand for veto power will make the United Nations organization "a complete washout."

Earle said the peace move apparently was made without Hitler's knowledge.

"A tentative feeler for peace was made to me in 1943 by von Papen through a neutral source," he said. "I was then a naval attaché but reporting directly to President Roosevelt on Balkan affairs. However, this was only a feeler and was disregarded."

The second von Papen attempt, Earle said, was more determined and was made through a neutral diplomat and another man named as a former German charge d'affaires to the United States and now a private citizen in Turkey.

These men proposed surrender of all German forces, including the air force and navy, Earle declared, with the Allies doing what they pleased with the German leaders.

Earle, who once served as U. S. minister to Bulgaria and naval attaché in Turkey, told newsmen yesterday he was "absolutely certain that when the Russians are able to manufacture the atomic bomb in quality and quantity they will wipe the American people off the face of the earth."

The former navy commander, recently married to a 23-year-old Belgian beauty—his second wife, said 15,000,000 persons—"half of them Jews"—are in Russian concentration camps "because they disagree with the Bolshevik government."

"Hitler hated Jews because they were Jews," Earle asserted. "But Stalin hates them because they are individualists. What have Jews done?"

Earle was divorced by Mrs. Herta Potter Earle—his wife for 29 years—last July 1. He married the Belgian woman in Istanbul last Dec. 29.

Hirohito On Another 'Meet People' Tour

Tokyo, March 25.—(P)—Crowds shouting "banzai" greeted Emperor Hirohito today on his third "meet the people" tour within a month.

He visited a hospital, a silk mill, an industrial plant and a prefectural government office.

The tour, which took Hirohito about 40 miles from Tokyo, preceded smoothly except when a minor official bowed low too close to the emperor's limousine and was smacked in the head by an opening door.

Hirohito's chauffeur and other attendants quickly rendered first aid and the man recovered sufficiently to show the emperor a reclaimed land project; wheat and potatoes are grown on this former Japanese airfield which still is littered at the edges with ruined planes.

Hirohito traveled by imperial train from Tokyo to Maebashi, where he entered his Mercedes Benz limousine with its imperial golden chrysanthemum. A jeeping of American military police led the way to Takasaki National Hospital, where the emperor visited former Japanese servicemen who returned ill from overseas duty.

His left shoulders twitching nervously, Hirohito stood before the soldiers asking them about their treatment, food and hospital conditions.

INDIA INDEPENDENCE PLEDGE REAFFIRMED

New Delhi, March 25.—(P)—Britain's cabinet mission reaffirmed today the London government's pledge of independence for India, if she wants it.

Lord Pethick-Lawrence, flanked by A. V. Alexander and Sir Stafford Cripps, told nearly 200 correspondents in a prepared statement that "the discussions now to begin are preliminary to the setting up of machinery whereby the forms which India can realize her full independent status can be determined by Indians."

Stricken Lieutenant's Baby Flown to Emergency Operation

Lt. Gordon Perkins of Seattle, Wash., an iron lung patient at Walter Reed Hospital in Washington, D. C., listens to news of his one-day old baby, which was flown to Boston for an emergency operation. Army Nurse Lt. Priscilla Parry and Staff Physician Capt. William Schumann, who tended the child after its birth and accompanied it to Boston in a specially equipped plane, returned to Walter Reed to report to Lt. Perkins and his wife. The 24-year-old lieutenant has been an iron lung patient since infantile paralysis struck him last year. At right, Lt. Parry is shown handing down the baby to an officer, upon arrival at Boston.

Wallace Charged With Mixing Politics Into Foreign Policy

Washington, March 25.—(P)—Republicans lashed out today at Secretary of Commerce Wallace for what Senator Ball (R-Minn.) described as "an effort to tangle American foreign policy in partisan politics."

Wallace's declaration that a GOP congressional victory next fall "would have a gravely disturbing effect on the whole international situation" was regarded by minority party lawmakers as setting the pattern of probable Democratic attack in the approaching election campaign.

Senator Ball struck back at the cabinet member's remark, prefacing the annual Jackson Day dinner speech by President Truman here Saturday night—that if the Republicans win in November "the inevitable isolationist policies would inevitably lead to world disaster."

Senator Pepper (D-Fla.) said he believed Wallace was "on sound grounds in his statements on what would be the meaning of the election of a Republican Congress."

However, Senator Austin (R-Vt.) took exception to this view, deploring, like Ball, any move that would make foreign policy a political issue in this year's political campaign. The New Englander told a reporter:

"The performance of Republicans in Congress is the answer to that. Republicans not only have supported, but have taken the leadership in the strides that have been made toward international cooperation for peace."

Republicans generally dismissed as none of their affair Mr. Truman's call for party harmony and Wallace's attack on Democrats the cabinet member said were doing "great harm" to their party by joining "in a coalition against progress."

Some of those to whom Wallace addressed his words were not present at the $100-a-plate dinner to (Turn to Page Nine)

BULLETIN

Atlantic City, N. J., Mar. 25.—(P)—CIO President Philip Murray today accused the governors of Michigan and Pennsylvania of discriminating against labor unions. In a speech before the United Auto Workers convention, he said there have been recent indications of discrimination by state officials, and he named Governor Harry F. Kelly of Michigan and Governor Edward Martin of Pennsylvania.

Four Die In Flames At Hollidaysburg

Hollidaysburg, March 25.—(P)—A courageous 35-year-old father saved the lives of four persons, but four other members of his family were burned to death in the Sabbath morning fire that damaged their home here.

Awakened by the sputtering and choking of his small daughter, Maurice Chamberlain grabbed his two children and lowered them to safety on a porch roof.

Re-entering the smoke-filled flaming house, he led his father, Arthur, 68, and 14-year-old brother to safety.

By that time the flames had swept through the front of the two-story home, trapping Maurice's aged mother, two sisters and a brother.

Blair County Coroner Daniel M. Replegle said Mrs. Ann Chamberlain, 66, and two daughters, Leona, 25, and Gladys, 21, were suffocated in their second-floor bedroom.

The charred body of Clarence Chamberlain who was recently discharged from the army after 42 months Pacific duty, was found sprawled at the foot of the stairs.

Another daughter, Verna Mae, 18, leaped to safety, landing in a tree, where Maurice found her and released her from the branches. She suffered poor burns and was reported in poor condition at Mercy Hospital in Altoona.

The coroner said preliminary investigation indicated the blaze started from a cigarette dropped on a sofa in the first-floor living room.

High School Boys In Line To Attend Parley

New York, March 25.—(P)—Young America, represented by high school boys, predominated this rainy morning in the line outside Hunter College for the 45 coveted spectators' seats at the United Nations Security Council meeting.

Although sessions were scheduled to begin at 2:30 p. m., first arrivals showed up only an hour after midnight. By 7 a. m. 15 persons were in line.

Among the first in line were Ralph Sherman, 18, and his brother Irving Sherman, 16, who arrived shortly after 1 a. m.

Louis Ricciardelli, 41, native of Italy, was the first adult in line.

Emlenton Is Damaged By $350,000 Fire

Emlenton, March 25.—(P)—Fire breaking out during the Saturday evening shopping period here destroyed two stores and a bank and damaged an entire block of business properties, causing damage estimated at more than $350,000.

Electric power lines were burned through, throwing this Venango county oil community into darkness.

The blaze was discovered in the basement of the Emil Long furniture store after a customer smelled smoke. A number of customers and employees fled to safety.

A rear wall of the furniture store collapsed, and the fire destroyed an adjoining building housing the Lynn & Gloring grocery store and the First National Bank.

Long said his loss would total $250,000 and a bank official estimated the institution's damage at $100,000. (Turn to Page Nine)

PAYS OLD BILL

Salisbury, England, March 25.—(P)—Alexander Mathie of Hatboro, Pa., sent $1 and a letter to an English innkeeper for a bill he neglected to pay last October. H. D. Patterson, proprietor of the Castle Inn, said Mathie wrote he had walked out of the inn without paying his bill while in England awaiting redeployment back to the U. S.

Comparing the situation in France, the only other country that Hoover has thus far visited, he said the average daily French caloric total amounts to 2,000, as compared with 1,550 for Italy.

Hoover said that rationing in the United States could save from one to 2,000,000 tons of food for export.

Guerrilla Hero Is Held As a Traitor

Belgrade, March 25.—(P)—Gen. Draja Mihailovic, once hailed as a guerrilla hero in the fight against the Nazis, was officially reported under arrest as a traitor and war criminal today following his capture by Yugoslav authorities.

Alexander Rankovic, minister of the interior, announced to a cheering parliament yesterday that the war-time leader of the Chetniks, who had been hunted for nearly two years in the Yugoslav hills by Marshall Tito's forces, had been seized March 13.

An official radio broadcast said the general was captured in a mountain cave guarded by only 11 men of his forces, which once were estimated to total as many as 200,000.

Dr. Ivan Subastic, former foreign minister, said last May that Mihailovic "will be shot" when captured. He added that the Chetnik leader would be given a "fair trial, but we have legal evidence to convict him."

ALL DISCUSSION OF IRANIAN ISSUE AT ATLANTIC CITY TO BE DELAYED UNTIL TUESDAY

New York, March 25.—(P)—United Nations leaders decided to limit today's Security Council meeting to formalities, including a message from President Truman, and delay until tomorrow all discussion of the Iranian issue.

The agreement came after the American group, headed by Secretary of State Byrnes and Edward R. Stettinius, Jr., received word that delay of one day was agreeable to the Russian delegation under Ambassador Andrei Gromyko.

The development gave additional time for the American, British, Iranian and Russian delegations here to receive official information on the reported Soviet agreement to pull the Red Army out of Iran, and also to get instructions from their governments as to how each should proceed on the case when it does come up before the council.

The one sure move thus far seen by officials here was that the United States definitely would insist on a report from both Russia and Iran on whatever an agreement has been made, and attempt to put behind any agreement, assuming it is approved here, the full prestige of the council to assure its enforcement.

The break in the Iranian issue, announced by Moscow radio, came on the eve of the council's opening at Hunter College here (2:30 p. m. E.S.T.) and was immediately hailed by officials as a victory for the United Nations system. These authorities said the fact that the UNO council was due to go into the Iranian case must have been the chief cause of Russia's decision to get her troops out of Iran.

The Iranian question remained the most important for the council to take up, and this seemed likely to be done on a motion by the United States to have Russia and Iran make a report on their agreement. In this way officials hoped to get the pact registered with the council and, assuming the council approves, give it the effective backing of that agency to assure that it is promptly and fully carried out.

Secretary of State Byrnes arrived late yesterday to represent the United States in the Iranian debate. He brought a message of welcome to the United Nations from President Truman and was scheduled to deliver that with a brief speech of his own soon after Dr. Quo Tai-Chi of China, president of the council, calls the first session to order.

Today's session was planned as one of formalities and speech-making with debate on Iran to begin Tuesday.

The opening marks the beginning of the United Nations' permanent world peace organization in the United States. Simultaneously the council's military staff committee, high command of the armies destined to carry out the council's orders, arranged to (Turn to Page Nine)

Hoover In Italy To Survey Situation

Rome, March 25.—(P)—Herbert Hoover told reporters here today that the food problem in Italy was the same as in other parts of famine-stricken Europe: "to prevent starvation for the next 120 days until the new harvest is gathered."

"That fate," he said, "will fall on the lower income groups and children soon after arrivals of overseas food stop."

Hoover, chairman of an American commission investigating the European food situation, said that if present Italian rations are lowered as the result of the failure to import foodstuffs, "it will be a disaster to the white collar and work classes."

Comparing the situation in France, the only other country that Hoover has thus far visited, he said the average daily French caloric total amounts to 2,000, as compared with 1,550 for Italy.

Hoover said that rationing in the United States could save from one to 2,000,000 tons of food for export.

Two Warren County Men Hurt In Crash

Two Warren county men were hospitalized and four other persons escaped unhurt from an automobile accident which occurred last night on the Dunham avenue over-pass of the Erie railroad tracks at Celoron.

In Jamestown General Hospital is Arthur S. Knisley, 18, of Yankee Bush, passenger in a truck which collided with another machine and went through the guard rails of the overpass to land just clear of the tracks 20 feet below. Pinned under the truck when it landed, Knisley suffered a severe laceration of one ear and injuries to his right arm, but seems miraculously, to have escaped more serious injury. Sam Salapek, also of Warren RD 3 and driver of the truck, was thrown clear before it went through the guard rails and suffered only leg abrasions.

According to Chautauque county officials, the vehicle, a 1935 Ford, was operated by Anthony Milotti, of Celoron, who, with his wife and baby, was unhurt. Also a passenger in the truck was William Knisley, father of Arthur, likewise uninjured.

HIGHWAY FATALITY

Irwin, March 25.—(P)—Charles I. DeWeese, 72, was struck and killed Saturday night by an automobile on the Lincoln highway near his home at Irwin RD 1. Coroner H. Albert McMurray reported.

Many Delinquent in Mailing In Red Cross Contributions

Slowly creeping totals have brought the current Red Cross fund in Warren county up to $17,695 over the weekend. This is 68.1% of the $26,000 quota which must be realized this week.

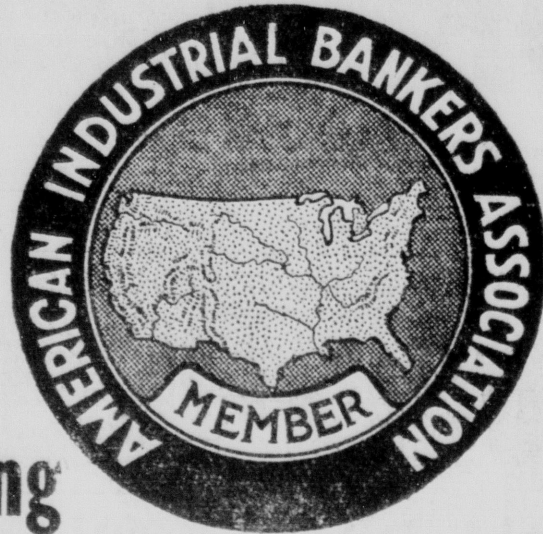

The last official report on the fund was of Friday morning, when $15,509 had been reported, which means that $2,300 was received at Red Cross Headquarters Friday and Saturday.

Records indicate that practically all firms and corporations have sent in their subscriptions. So, the burden of raising the final $5,395 will fall upon the residents of the borough and county. Several thousand individuals, to whom letters of appeal have been sent, have yet to be heard from. It is hoped these folks will make their contributions this week.

Those who have subscribed to date have helped to bring the total to where it now stands. What the many thousands who have not yet replied to the appeal of the Red Cross will do remains the big mystery. To those who have made subscriptions the Warren County Chapter offers a sincere "Thank you." To those who have yet to mail in their contributions the Red Cross simply says "Please hurry." But five days to push the campaign over the top.

Have you mailed your subscription to the Red Cross?

Burglary At Sheffield Is Investigated

Chief of Police Robert Carlberg and Deputy Sheriff Sanford Secor are investigating the burglary of the office of the Bear Lumber Company at Sheffield last Friday night. A stone was used to break out a small piece of glass near the spring lock on the door of the office. The lock was then sprung and entrance made. Once inside the man, or men, broke open the vault and took $3 in cash which was all that was in the vault with the exception of checks, etc. They then left by the rear door.

The officers are as yet unable to make any arrests but they feel they have some clues upon which to work. They feel the job was done either by some persons familiar with the surroundings or by professionals so cleverly was the front door opened and so workmanlike was the job of entering the vault. Tools in the building were used for the latter job and some time evidently spent in the office building.

Exchange Band Concert Here Pronounced Great Success By Capacity Crowd Present

When bigger and better high school band exchanges are held, Warren and Bradford will be in on the ground floor, if one may judge from the results of the Owls and Dragons concert enjoyed by a capacity house in Beaty school gym on Friday night, the second of this spring's special exchange visits.

Bradford students, with their director, Rodney A. Schoch, arrived in town in mid-morning and conducted themselves admirably throughout their stay. Both Warren and Bradford students expressed freely their appreciation of the welcome given them and the special events arranged for their entertainment.

Long before concert time, parents and friends started filling into the gym. Blue and White majorettes distributed programs, School Music Boosters Club members were handling tickets and ushering, and a large "Welcome" banner, with owl and dragon in the colors of the two schools, covered the west wall of the gym, another contribution by High School art students to the evening's success.

Robert Young, pinch-hitting for Principal Floyd Bathurst, extended a warm welcome to the visitors, indicating the exchange will be an annual affair, and paying a sincere tribute to Warren's own Harry Summers.

He then presented Mr. Schoch, who conducted the first half of the evening's program and, later, expressed the thanks and appreciation of his delegation for their warm reception. The 126 red-and-black, blue-and-white uniformed students presented a colorful picture as they filed into the auditorium. From the first note, every instrument was in tune, a "must" and first requirement of any sized ensemble. Both bands were right on their toes and, with a thought to the short time spent in combined rehearsal, played extremely well. The Bach number, a difficult concert arrangement, was exceptionally well done, producing the effect of a great organ, and paid by the audience the tribute of rapt attention and absolute silence. Marches were done with the flash of professionals.

If any real criticism be offered, it would be limited to the poor acoustics of the only auditorium in Warren available for a presentation of this type. As a consequence, echoes bounce from the hard walls, resulting in loss of a great deal of tone shading. A sound absorbent ceiling in the gym would do much to counteract this bad effect.

Students, themselves, were enthusiastic over the benefits derived from the exchange, the friendly relations firmly established between the two communities, and the valuable experience of working with the playing under different directors. Bradford musicians were happy to receive, with the compliments of Boosters, a copy of the special Owls-Dragons welcome edition of the Times-Mirror published Friday.

Both directors expressed the thanks of their musical organizations for cooperation of the school officials, Boosters and townspeople.

Received just at the end of the concert was the report of the Blue and White's victory over Allegheny High at Farrell, fitting conclusion to an exciting day's activities.

Lord Nelson, England's naval hero, won the battle of Copenhagen while acting against orders to stop fighting.

Group To Take Pre-Induction Physical Tests

Draft Board No. 1 this morning sent a group of men to Harrisburg for their pre-induction physical examinations. The board also sent one man, Norman Beardsley Cable for induction into the services. Reports was also made that two Warren men, Gail Norman Smith and James William Tome had enlisted in the United States Army.

Those who left for their physical examinations were: John Merton Farrell, Nicholas Gust Geracinos, William Harold Beach, Donald Bruce Nielson, Richard Irvin Randall and James Herbert Schumann, of Warren and Allen James Stoddard.

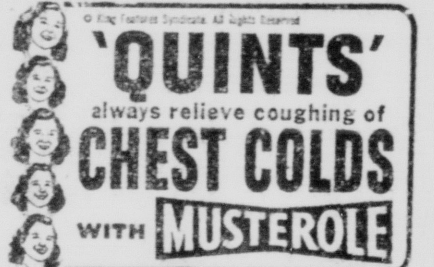

It is expected that the call for men will be heavier next month than it has been for some time as enlistments are not filling the ranks of the army and navy as fast as had been hoped for by the recruiters.

Washington Park Threatened By Forest Fire Saturday

Children playing with matches on Saturday started a grass and brush fire that raced up the hill toward Washington Park and gave the fire crew of the State Forestry Department and the Warren Fire Department some hard work. The dry grass and brush burned like tinder and fanned by a stiff breeze the flames ascended the hill at a rapid rate. Smoke hung low over that section of the city and drew a large number of the scene.

The truck of the forestry department got stuck in the fire road leading to the scene and had to be helped out. The road is badly in need of cinders to make it passable. The forestry truck then went up the hill to the top and got into action there.

Later in the day another fire threatened the same area at 820 West Fifth avenue started up the hill and would have gotten into Washington Park with damage to the park lands and plantation of young trees had it not been for a fire line that had only been cut the week previously. This demonstrated its worth and the park escaped undamaged.

While this fire was being fought another broke out on Quaker Road between the Watson Home and the Fox farm! As the forestry crew was busy a truck from the local fire department answered the alarm. By the use of Indian pumps this was soon quenched.

Saturday was one of the worst days for forest fires that the city and state departments have had to cope with in many months. Fires were reported over a large section of the Conplanter Fire District. One was fought on the Newbold property back of Yeagles Grove in Pleasant township; another at Garland set by a railroad spark; another at Irvine where fire got into a pile of ties and the Youngsville firemen had two trucks on the scene; one at Five Corners; one at Redfield School in Venango county; the largest one of all was at the Hunter Run school in Forest county; another at Eagle Rock and one near Meadville.

Most of the fires were caused by the burning of rubbish and the firemen and forestry crews are again warning all persons to be prepared when they start bon fires to check any fire that starts into brush or adjacent woodlands.

THE STATE POLICE SAY:

Safety has been defined as the freedom from danger. Just how free from danger we are on our highways is reflected in the daily press accounts of highway accidents. Safety is also a state of mind. The individual driver must condition his thinking to safe operation at all times before we can achieve freedom from danger. The pedestrian too must condition himself to the belief that his safety is his own responsibility.

OUR DRAGONS STILL IN THE FIGHT

The Rangy Warren High School Dragons basketball team continues its quest for the state championship in a manner that has earned them, and may we say, this community, the plaudits of local followers, as well as sports fans throughout the commonwealth. Interest in the gallant, and so far successful, campaign being waged by the Blue and White cagers is evidenced by the large number of inquiries received at the editorial rooms of the Times-Mirror, not only on nights when they are battling on foreign courts, but on the succeeding days.

Friday night's victory was to say the least a commendable one, since it was plainly evident that the Dragons were a little off at least for the first three quarters, rallying to stage a reversal of form that overwhelmed the Steelers from Pittsburgh.

Tomorrow night Warren will be playing Homestead at McKeesport for the western PIAA title and a chance to meet the victor of the eastern battle at Convention hall being played in Philadelphia tonight. Incidentally the east-west victors clash March 30 at Philadelphia for the State Class A championship.

Never before has a Warren basketball team reached the semi-finals in state competition. That in itself is an achievement that stamps the 1945-46 Dragons as among the best. The boys left today for McKeesport with the best wishes of a great host of admirers for a victory that will send them into the final game and a crack at the state title.

Best of luck, boys!

NO PLAN FOR PALESTINE

The British government seems to have rejected the plan American engineers suggested for settling the long-unsolved Palestine dispute by the development of irrigation and water power. The British attitude is reported to be that the required money could be spent better elsewhere, and that the Arab-Jewish quarrel creates a bad atmosphere for the proposal.

This seems a rather lame dismissal of a plausible suggestion. There are, of course, reasons for the violent disagreement in Palestine other than the ability of the land to support a greatly increased population. But if the land could be returned to fruitful abundance, a way might be opened for settlement of the political and religious disputes.

In Old Testament times Palestine blossomed like the rose. Neglect and erosion brought it to its present barren state. American engineers who have studied the country believe that, through terracing and irrigation, the desert could be made to bloom again. They point to the fact that Zionist settlers have already made a good start in that direction.

It seems a pity if the British, confronted with an apparently insoluble situation, are ready to give up on a sensible and hopeful scheme without even a try.

The value of a fire line in protecting valuable forest property was never better demonstrated than it was Saturday when a fire broke out on the hillside north of town above Laurel street. The flames raged up the slope until it reached the fire line recently cut between Washington Park and the New York Central railroad tracks, where they were checked. Incidentally, the fire wardens and volunteers did an excellent job in extinguishing the flames as they were racing toward the park.

LENTEN SERMONETTE

By HAROLD KNAPPENBERGER
Grace Methodist Church

A PLEA FOR REVERENCE. Psalm 25:14—"The secret of the Lord is with them that reverence him." Dr. John Henry Jowett once said that people who live under great domes acquire a stately and noble habit of life and that the mean, trivial and ugly drop away from them. That is just a picturesque way of saying that man is influenced by the atmosphere in which he lives. The strong man may rise above the atmosphere of his time or place, but the rank and file of us are made by, not makers of, the atmosphere in which we live. How necessary, then, that we be aware of God, His power, His goodness and His purpose. How essential that we live in an atmosphere of reverence.

Psalm 25, verse 14, declares "The secret of the Lord is with them that reverence him." The way to realize God's presence in life is the way of reverence. The paths of reverence are three: First, there is the path of prayer. Prayer is conversation with God. One's first prayer must be a prayer for pardon. Once pardon is obtained, if one perseveres in prayer an abiding sense of God's presence will result. Second, there is the path of meditation. To meditate is to sit down alone with God. Take time alone or think on God, what He is, what He does, and what His purposes for your life are. Third, there is the path of worship, both private and public. In worship God touches us and we are restored and renewed. Attendance at public worship should be the constant practice of every person who has the well-being of all whom he knows and loves at heart.

The fruits of reverence are a sense of security, certainty and ability to meet all life's demands in a day like this

Last week we mentioned our friends, Frankie and Johnny. Though they are probably old settlers in the neighborhood, they are newcomers this spring to our particular window sill. We used to entertain several enterprising sparrows who were chipper and impudent, with all the attributes of good house-to-house salesmen. On vicious January mornings, when cemetery hill was anything but dew-pearled, when the snow was driving relentlessly across the rooftops and rapidly building white lean-tos against the chimneys in the foreground, the sparrows would be chattering undauntedly just outside the window. Brash, these sparrows. But after all, they were demanding only their breakfast; and even a sparrow has a right to get along. We could not but admire their cheerful acceptance of the facts of life. Above all, they were never pompous or complacent; more than we can claim for some of our human contemporaries.

For a long time this winter the window sill was deserted. The cracked grain, so golden and edible-looking when it came out of the bag, lay there day after day, growing gray and damp, and most unappetizing even to a sparrow. There must be something wrong with our philosophy of life, we thought, when even the socially bottommost of the ornithological world will not deign to breakfast with us. About that time, perhaps a month ago, we had our first visit from Frankie and Johnny. Now, let it be said at the start we don't think they drove the sparrows away. We never saw them fling their superior armor at a smaller bird, and we don't believe they ever conducted a war of nerves. In fact, now that this communal pair are well-established, an occasional sparrow has begun to return; and the two pigeons and the sparrow munch quite contentedly together, with no rude comment on one another's table manners.

The housing problem probably affected F. and J. somewhat less than it seems to be troubling a lot of humans right now, with similar homing instincts. But there was a period of marked indecision punctuated by agitated cooings and much flapping about. We wondered how it would all come out. Then one day we discovered that, from lunching at our ample board, our pigeons had acquired a great fondness for window sills. They had selected another one on the south side of the store building, but at the third floor level. These windows are protected by steel shutters. One of these shutters, apparently stuck at the bottom, has remained closed for some time; the other, also stuck, about half way open. Frankie and Johnny, full of domestic satisfaction, built their nest on the narrow ledge between the window-pane and the shutter.

It must have looked like an inviolable spot for family purposes. The closed shutter provided a secure and hidden recess, while the half-open shutters provided easy access to anyone "in the know," but difficulties for anyone else. But how easily all their best-laid plans might gang a-gley. If the closed shutter should come unstuck and open, the nest and its contents would tumble off into space. If a violent wind should catch the half-open shutter, as indeed one day it did, and close it, Madame Frankie with her two precious eggs would be irretrievably trapped between the window and the shutter. (A good specimen case for those who believe in free-will.) However, human intervention was fortunately at hand, and the home of the F. and J. Pigeons has been made reasonably secure. Johnny flaps around the nest, full of importance, and Frankie sits upon her treasure with that aura of self-complacency which only the female of the human species in like circumstances exhibits.

The cooing of pigeons, surely not comparable to any other sound on earth, brings back a famous family legend based on an episode which took place during our earliest childhood. Our white brick house in Cadiz, Ohio, like many other houses on the old post roads, was built, in colonial manner, flush with the sidewalk. All the extra ground was in the back, and what a glorious back-yard it made! Near the back porch was a plum tree which bore enormous purple fruit. Farther down were two greengage plum trees, a cherry tree next to the boardwalk, a yellow apple tree in the very middle. At the lower end of the boardwalk was a quince tree, and a little farther down, a damson plum. At the end of the yard was a garden, and at the end of the garden a stable. Next to the fence were a pigeon coop and a chicken coop.

We don't remember why we had a pigeon coop, for I'm sure pigeons were not regarded in our family as an edible commodity. Our brother used to raise them, so perhaps it was just a hobby. He was given a beautiful pair of fantails one birthday, but they were stolen the same night. One of our favorite Saturday pastimes was to go pigeon-hunting. This meant a long walk into the country. We would spot a farmer's barn which seemed to have many pigeons circling about. Then, with or without his permission, we would climb up into the haymow and across the rafters under the roof where the pigeons generally lurked. Why we didn't break our necks is sheer mystery. Sometimes we would succeed in cornering and capturing a pigeon or two, which we would carry jubilantly back to town in a sack to add to our own collection.

But to get to the story: A fine old colored lady, Ellen Jones, came regularly to do our washing. On summer days she used to take her wash bench and board down under the damson tree, where it was cooler. The first time she came after the advent of the pigeon coop, she disappeared with her supplies as usual. But she was soon back. Her eyes were large and very white in her dusky face. Her voice was trembling with agitation. "Mrs. Wright," she exclaimed, "ah ah! gonna wash down deah no mo!"

"Why, Ellen, what's the matter?"
Fright and indignation strove for mastery as she blurted, "Dem ol' pigeons jus' keeps on sayin' 'Looka-da-coon . . . looka-da-coon . . . looka-da-coon!'"

Penelec Will Sponsor Sales Course

Pictured above are residential sales directors and supervisors of the Pennsylvania Electric company who attended a conference in Erie to complete plans for a basic sales training course which Penelec is sponsoring. In the picture are: Back row left to right: E. J. Beezer, Bradford; H. W. Neville, Johnstown; P. W. Vaughn, Johnstown; A. F. Widmann, Erie and C. G. Munzer, Johnstown. Front row: E. M. Fleckenstein, Oil City; G. D. Salsgiver, Oil City; P. G. N. Cramer, Erie, and E. H. Kifer, Johnstown. Standing: F. H. Hipp, Erie.

Electric company have registered in the basic sales training course which Penelec is sponsoring for those interested in selling electrical appliances and equipment. More than 60 including many returned servicemen, are from the Keystone and northern divisions according to G. D. Salsgiver, residential sales director for these divisions.

Salsgiver, together with E. M. Fleckenstein and B. J. Beezer, has just returned from a three-day sales conference in Erie where final plans for the training classes were completed.

Penelec will sponsor the course which was produced by Vocafilm under the supervision of the Edison Electrical Institute, in cooperation with the National Electrical Wholesalers' association. The course employs the same techniques applied by Vocafilm in the production of training films for the army and navy. F. H. Hipp, Penelec supervisor of sales training, adapted it to local conditions.

Classes will be held one evening a week for a period of eight weeks in the following district towns of the company: Warren, Bradford and Oil City.

Normally, the course would cost each enrollee $20.00 but through the cooperation of Penelec, the only charge will be a $5.00 fee for a set of salesmen's manuals which will be used during the course of study.

Warren Dragons Enter Western Finals

Eaton Breaks Deadlock, Al Babcock Makes Free Throw to Give Allegheny 38-35 Defeat

Warren's battling Dragons pulled another game out of the fire Friday night, towering Jack Eaton scoring a brilliant hook shot to break a 35-35 deadlock and Al Babcock making the free throw to give Allegheny a 38-35 defeat.

After a very poor exhibition during three quarters of their battle with the dogged Allegheny quint from Pittsburgh, the Massmen finally came to life in the fourth quarter to overcome a four-point deficit and move ahead to a 38-35 verdict.

With the score deadlocked at 35-35 and only a little over a minute to be played, giant Jack Eaton, who paced the Dragons with a 16-point total, dumped in a spectacular hook shot to give the Dragons a 37-35 advantage. Then Alan Babcock, turning in another fine performance, poyed a foul point through the nets to stretch the Dragon lead to three points with only a fraction of a minute remaining.

The victory for Warren breaks all previous records set by local scholastic cagers in the state eliminations. Coach Joe Massa, in only his second year as Dragon mentor, has developed a championship ball club once again and is hoping that he can direct his charges to a western title.

Allegheny opened Friday's scoring to take a 2-0 lead, which was quickly halted by a Dragon tally. Allegheny went ahead again, but Warren tied the count, only to have Allegheny move out in front, 8-4. The locals drew forth again and closed the opening period with a 9-8 lead.

The short, speedy Pittsburghers were on the speed end for the first portion of the second period as the Dragons jumped their lead to 13-9. Warren still led, 17-13, late in the canto but Allegheny rallied to overcome the margin and take a 22-19 lead to the locker room at halftime.

The Dragons' shooting was far below par and their passwork was very poor. None of the players was able to find the range and Allegheny intercepted numerous Warren passes. The exhibition was undoubtedly one of the worst ever turned in by the local quint.

The opening minutes of the third stanza were almost devastating for Warren. Allegheny ran its lead to 28-20, the farthest it was ahead in the game. The Dragons finally made up the deficit and jumped to within one point of the losers, 28-27.

At the end of the third, Allegheny was still leading, 30-27, and conditions didn't look too rosy for Warren.

Paul Marquardt tossed in a foul point to add another marker to Allegheny's lead. But, after a long and arduous battle, the Dragons began to click.

Dick Harris, who missed consistently in the first three periods, cut loose with two double-deckers in succession from mid-court to cut the Allegheny lead and tie the game at 31-31.

Then Eaton, doing an exceptional board job and leading the local scoring, dumped a tip-in to put Warren in the lead for the first time since the second quarter. The shot gave Warren a 33-31 margin. Dittich and Zarybnick connected on two-pointers to tie and reverse the score in favor of Allegheny, 35-33.

Harris again hit from mid-court to deadlock the score for the sixth time, 35-35, and then Eaton threw in his game-clinching hook shot, followed by Al Babcock's free toss which clinched the game.

Jaksic paced the losers with ten points, while Eaton's 16 and Babcock and Harris each with 8 led the locals.

Bill Carter Takes P.I.A.A. Tumbling Toga

The Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic Association tumbling championship was returned to Warren High School Saturday afternoon by Bill Carter, who, as a lone local entry in the championships at Penn State, walked off with the mat title and placed Warren in fourth place in team standing.

Although tumbling has been a "thing of the past" since Homer Fleming left here several years ago, Carter has been practicing at the YMCA and proved his talent at State College on Saturday.

The tumbling trophy again rests here after an absence of four years when such stars as Harold Zimmerman, Bill Meade, "Tink" Bean, Ray Sorensen, and others put Warren on the map with their championship victories.

Lower Merion won the title for the third straight year by totaling fifty-seven points. Results:

Tumbling—Won by Bill Carter, Warren; 2nd, Bill Boyle, Lower Merion; 3rd, Joe Clarke, Lower Merion; 4th, Dave Boney, Lower Merion; 5th, Rudy Valentino, Lancaster.

Team score: Lower Merion, 57; Pottsville, 12; Ellwood City, 11; Warren, 5; Ambridge, 3; Johnstown, and Lancaster, 1 each.

Parallel bar—Won by Robert Hughes, Lower Merion; 2nd, Max Rizzardi, Pottsville; 3rd, George Ambridge, 5th, Tom Slevin, Ellwood City.

Side Horse—Won by Mickey Pote, Lower Merion; 2nd, Nick Gerhardt, Lower Merion; 3rd, Dave Benner, Lower Merion; 5th, William Chappel, Johnstown.

BEHIND THE LINES

THE SPORTS BOOSTERS

After years and years of endless quibbling for an athletic stadium, the time has come when, in all probability, Warren will have its long awaited wish.

The formation of the Sports Boosters Association has again set the town stadium-minded, and the men behind this organization are willing, and able, to accomplish a project which has long been an article of debate.

Last week when the Community PTA and Sports Boosters representatives met at the YWCA, probably the most brilliant future for an athletic stadium was foreseen. As you know, the PTA was granted a plot of property on Lexington avenue by Albert Ristau last fall, and the donor allowed the PTA one year to propose some means by which a stadium could be built there.

By joining forces, the two organizations have in their power to through then the school officials will have to begin scouting for a new high school field. By joining all the involved organizations, there should be no reason why Warren could not have its stadium.

Many of the community's most able and sports-minded citizens are members of the SBA, and with complete cooperation from borough officials and townspeople, such a stadium could be had—and quite easily.

Elmo Wolfe has been sent to Atlanta in the Southern Association by the Cincinnati Reds. Elmo was one of the last aspirants to be shipped out from the Reds' Tampa, Florida, camp . . . George Pedlow, one of the 1924 WHS cagers who gained a lot of fame, attended the Warren-Allegheny game Friday

Warren coaches and players enjoyed a long chat with the Kittanning sportsman . . . Paul Birch, a former Duquesne and New York Celtic cager and Homestead high school coach, was seen at Youngstown Friday by the Dragon contingent. Paul is now coach of the Youngstown Pros . . . And by the way, the Warren-Allegheny tilt was tied six times and the lead changed an equal number of times.

Meet Undeclared Homestead Tuesday at McKeesport In Western Pennsylvania Final

Warren's championship Dragon cagers, having successfully pulled out of two jams to cop respective 33-32 and 38-35 victories over Sharpville and Pittsburgh, enter the PIAA western final tomorrow night against unbeaten Homestead on the McKeesport Vocational High gym at eight o'clock.

The winner of tomorrow night's clash will represent the west on Saturday night at Philadelphia's Convention Hall against tonight's Allentown-Radnor victor to decide the Pennsylvania scholastic basketball championship for 1945-6.

May Advise Less Grain For Liquor
Atlantic City, N. J., Mar. 25—(P)—UNRRA's important internal council on supplies was reported ready today to recommend sharp curtailment of the use of grain for making liquor or for fattening hogs and chickens on the grounds that it can be better used to feed the world's hungry.

This was the first major development to emerge from a tightly-deadlocked session called to thresh out a demand from money-poor nations dependent upon UNRRA relief for an "equal break" with countries holding financial reserves on the market for available surplus.

Still to be decided was the question looming large in the minds of delegates here—whether or not UNRRA would recommend worldwide rationing of commodities in short supplies—particularly fats, cereals, and oils—as recommended by Director General Herbert Lehman.

In preparation for today's council meeting a huge crew of workmen have in two weeks converted Hunter College in the Bronx from a wartime WAVE training school to the temporary "capital of the world." The council itself has a deluxe beige and buff carpeted and curtained chamber in what was formerly a basketball court.

Its activities are governed by a wide-open press policy and the most modern means of communication, including television, have been marshalled to keep the world informed of all it does.

FIRE IN MINE
Pittsburgh, March 25—(P)—About 200 miners were made jobless today by a $100,000 fire which destroyed the tipple of the Culmerville Coal Co. Mutual No. 3 mine. The tipple, which had a 200-ton an hour capacity and was 60 feet off the ground, caught fire about 4 a. m. yesterday.

Manufacture of gasoline from natural gas will be tried out on a large scale in a new Texas plant to be erected at a cost of $14,000,000.

Demand for aviation gasoline has declined about 75 percent since the end of the war, as a result of decreased military demand.

Chloroform, ether and nitrous oxide were the first general anesthetics to be used widely.

CUTTING FINE TIMBER
Some of the finest hemlock timber that has been cut in this county in many years is now being taken out on a tract near Youngsville where a limited amount of virgin timber is being cut. The tract is owned by the Morgan interests which operates a mill at Spantansburg. Last week on one truck load being moved to the mill several of the logs measured three feet in diameter.

RESPITE FOR BATTLESHIP
Seattle, March 25—(P)—The Battleship Pennsylvania, one-time flagship of the United States fleet, remained at anchor today—its trip to the Bikini Atoll atom bomb tests postponed indefinitely, the 13th naval district announced. The Pennsylvania was designated to serve as a "guinea pig" in the tests.

Declining to name them, Boykin told newsmen the holdouts took the position that Wallace "should not be speaking to Democrats."

Officers Are Chosen For Radio Station

For several weeks past men have been busy in this city sounding sentiment relative to the location of a broadcasting station in Warren. An application for a charter was made some months ago and it was granted last week and at a meeting held Saturday officers were chosen as follows: President, A. Officers of the company at present are located in the office of Stone and Flick, legal representatives of the Northern Allegheny Broadcasting Company. It is proposed, say the promoters, to operate a 1000 Watt station in this city which will cover this section extensively. Surveys have been made informally for sites for transmitters, etc. The company is now ready to go before the Federal Communications Commission for permission to operate on the air.

Rogers Urges Construction Of Kinzua Dam

St. Louis, March 25.—The water resources committee, with Governor Sharpe of North Dakota as chairman, met Saturday afternoon in a preliminary session to the twenty-seventh annual convention of the Mississippi Valley Association which opened here today.

Captain William B. Rodgers, president of the Pittsburgh Coal Exchange, said that the next important flood control dam in the Pittsburgh area should be located on the Allegheny river above Warren, Pa.

He was complimented for his efforts to have the deficiency bill passed by congress to permit an early start on the Conemaugh dam. Construction of another dam on the Clarion river was recommended by Captain Rodgers, since the exciting structure was built to furnish power.

Governor Sharpe said he considers flood control one of the outstanding needs of the nation. The committee also went on record as favoring the study of erosion of our shorelines, along the western rivers, the Great Lakes and the Gulf of Mexico.
